The Bridge Vlaardingse Vaart, West 8 designed for the city of Vlaardingen, is one of the finalists in the Dutch Design Awards. The winners will be chosen by an international jury and introduced to the design world during the festive Award Show on 17 October 17, 2009. The designs of all finalists and winners will subsequently be exhibited for one week in the Brainport Greenhouse on the Stadhuisplein in Eindhoven during Dutch Design Week.

Dutch Design Awards are the prestigious awards for the best Dutch Design available. The annual event comprises the competition, the international travelling exhibition, and the production of the Dutch Design Yearbook 2009. These activities ensure a platform for the presentation and recognition of the best of Dutch design - across the full width of the design field.
